

CONGRATULATIONS!

Mike Seneski of Palmdale, CA is the winner of the 2006 National Motorcycle Museum Custom Panhead Bobber

Mike Seneski was, in one word, AMAZED when he received the call on December 29th saying he had just won the 2006 National Motorcycle Museum Custom Bobber raffle bike. Needless to say he was a very happy man. Museum Director Jeff Carstensen made the call could tell that Mike was definitely a little bit in shock.

At approximately 3:30 p.m. on Friday, December 29, 2006, Matt Behrends, Vice President of Citizens Bank, Anamosa, Iowa, drew the winning ticket and handed it to Museum Director Jeff Carstensen. Kris Lyons, Attorney at Law, Monticello, Iowa, read the name and Jeff immediately picked up the phone to give Mike the news.

Mike purchased his "6 tickets for $25" through the mail in November. Mike has been riding motorcycles, and has been a customer of J&P Cycles® for several years. Never thinking he would win, he thought the bike was gorgeous and wanted to help support the museum. "I have never won anything like this in my life," said Mike as the shock began to wear off. "I just can't believe it!"

Plans are currently in the works to ship the motorcycle to Paul in California. "I can't wait to actually see the bike and ride it," said Mike.

The staff and Board of Directors at the National Motorcycle Museum would like to thank everyone for their fantastic efforts on the raffle bike project this year. From the builders at J&P Cycles, to the editors at Hot Bike to the generous manufacturers who donated parts to the project.

"This year's Raffle bike has been by far the most successful fundraiser the Museum has ever had," said Museum President John Parham. "So many people helped make this beautiful bike come to life and we are thrilled at the results. We are very happy for Mike and hope he will enjoy the motorcycle for many years to come."

A big thanks also goes out to everyone who purchased tickets for the raffle. Your support of the Museum is truly appreciated. The funds raised are already being put to good use as the Museum has just finished a fantastic new display of an early 1900's motorcycle workshop.

Finally, if you didn't win... don't despair! The 2006 project worked so well, that for 2007 we are doing the same thing! The 2007 Custom Retro Bobber (with an Exotic Knucklehead® style motor) is being built by J&P Cycles as we speak! and will once again be featured in Hot Bike magazine. Tickets are on sale now! So go online at www.nationalmcmuseum.org or give us a call and get your tickets today!

The National Motorcycle Museum features over 200 vintage motorcycles from around the world. The Museum is open seven days a week, year-round, except major holidays and sundays in January. As a non-profit 501(C)(3)corporation, the Museum relies on memberships, contributions, admissions, fundraisers and gift shop sales to support its goal of preserving the history of motorcycling.
